TAYLOR DUNIVIN

The morning session features Taylor Dunivin who Serves as the EPA Region 8 Agriculture Advisor. In this capacity, she serves as a liaison between the agricultural community and the Region and provides advice on agricultural environmental programs and policies. Taylor is a soil microbiologist with experience in agriculture, environmental, and health policy. She previously served as staff to the Senate Committee on Agriculture, Nutrition, and Forestry where she worked on agricultural issues including climate, pesticides, PFAS, and biotechnology. Taylor joined EPA in 2022. Taylor has a Ph.D. in Microbiology and Toxicology from Michigan State University and a B.S. in Biology from the University of Michigan with a minor in Environmental Science. Her topic will be: UNDERSTANDING EPA'S PESTICIDE & ENDANGERED SPECIES STRATEGIES.

TRENT LOOS

The afternoon session highlights the topic: PROTECTING DOMESTIC FOOD AND FUEL FOR A FREE FUTURE by Trent Loos. Sharing the positive story of production agriculture has been the mission of Trent Loos since he walked into a radio station in Spearfish, SD in 2000 and asked to have his own program. Often touted as an agricultural activist, that dream of a sixth generation United States farmer came true on January 8, 2001 when "Loos Tales" first aired on KMZU in Missouri. Today, 3 million listeners on nearly 100 radio stations in 21 states hear the show every day, along with online listeners worldwide. Trent travels the globe to unearth stories about the people involved in the many different facets of production agriculture and to ignite a passion for the story of food and the people who raise it. He and his wife Kelli have three daughters, Libbi, Lindsi and Landri. Their family adventures typically revolve around animals and sports!
